After 20 years working for big companies and consulting firms, Leo Wisniewski chose to brave the waters of entrepreneurship in search of a better quality of life. Today, he and his wife Barb run four different businesses, including a chain of Great Clips hair salons, a family engineering firm, a commercial real estate operation, and an advisory service and radio show for other entrepreneurs.

Wearing so many hats at once, Wisniewski has to stay flexible, which is why he makes his home office at a Regus business center outside of Chicago.

"I had used Regus before in a previous job, and was always impressed with the quality of the facilities and the people," he said. "Now Regus is a natural fit for my business because I can use everything on an as-needed basis."

Wisniewski started out working from home and occasionally using Regus facilities as a private place to meet with clients. As his business dealings grew, he moved in full-time.

Wisniewski's passion project is the Entrepreneur's Source, a franchised company that helps other would-be business owners find their dream opportunity and make it a reality. That includes helping them find affordable options for office space.

"Regus' national presence is simply awesome, so I can recommend them to entrepreneurs all over the country," said Wisniewski. "Regus works with you to create a customized solution to meet your unique needs. And that's exactly what new business owners need."
